Welcome to the Invitational

Competitors,

On behalf of Subsonic Society, welcome to Bristol and thank you for accepting the Invitational Challenge. This match was created to bring outstanding rimfire competitors together, remove the ordinary barriers, raise the level of competition and build an experience worthy of the shooters who earned an invitation.

You are part of a limited field coming to The Hideout for a weekend of serious competition, great people and a little fun along the way. We have worked hard to make the Invitational different - challenging stages, a meaningful cash purse, dedicated staff and spotters, hospitality, and an atmosphere where the competitors are the focus. We are proud to have Modacam Custom Rifles as the presenting sponsor of the Subsonic Society Invitational Money Match.

Bristol is home for us, and I want you and anyone traveling with you to enjoy it while you are here. This packet gives you a quick guide to the match weekend, lodging, downtown dining and some of the things that make Bristol, Tennessee and Bristol, Virginia special.

Most importantly, thank you for accepting the challenge and helping us build something special. We look forward to welcoming you to Bristol and seeing you on the range.

Said. Done.

Welcome to Bristol, Tennessee & Bristol, Virginia

Bristol is a true two-state city in the Appalachian Mountains. Historic State Street follows the Tennessee-Virginia line through downtown, giving visitors the unusual opportunity to stand with one foot in Tennessee and one foot in Virginia at the same time beneath the iconic Bristol sign. Downtown blends local restaurants, live music, shops, historic architecture and Bristol's nationally recognized music heritage.

The area is also known for motorsports, outdoor recreation and entertainment - from Bristol Motor Speedway and Bristol Dragway to Hard Rock Hotel & Casino Bristol, South Holston Lake and the South Holston River. Bristol is the official Birthplace of Country Music, and the downtown museum tells the story of the historic 1927 Bristol Sessions.

Worth an Extra Day: South Holston River Trout Fishing

The South Holston River is one of the region's premier trout fisheries and is widely regarded among the best fly-fishing waters in the East. Cold water released from South Holston Dam supports strong brown and rainbow trout populations, and local guides offer half-day and full-day trips. During the Invitational dates, designated spawning sections may be seasonally closed, so check current Tennessee fishing regulations and TVA generation schedules before fishing.

Quick Notes for Competitors

- 50 yard, 100 yard, and 200 yard zero available.
- Eye and ear protection is recommended at all times.
- Historic downtown Bristol is an easy place to combine dinner, shopping and sightseeing in one stop.
- Bristol spans two states, so your hotel, dinner and evening entertainment may move you back and forth between Tennessee and Virginia.
- Plan to spend Saturday evening at The Hideout, and leave room in your Sunday schedule for the two side matches after the main event.
- For sightseeing or fishing plans, confirm seasonal hours, reservations and operating schedules before leaving the hotel.

Additional directions to 111 Hwy 44 and competitor arrival instructions will be sent before match weekend.
